BIG CROWD WITNESSES RACES AT THE FAIR

Horses Are Entered From Utah. Idaho, Montana and Colorado.

OGDEN, Oct. 1 .- Fully 2500 people filled the grandstand and the bleachers and overflowed into the enclosure between the grandstand and the race track Thursday afternoon to watch the racing card arranged by the promoters of the fair.

It is impossible to appreciate the number and class of racing stock now quartered at the fair grounds by witnessing the races. With comparatively few entries in each race, those attending the Montana, Nevada and Colorado circuits, as well as the best animals of this state, are represented in the various racing events, which began Wednesday, the opening day, and will close on the last day of the fair. "hursday's results follow."

low:
First event—Trot or pace, 2:35 class—
School Girl first, Ruby Thorn second, Bernia T, third, Red Cloud fourth. The heats were run in 2:21; 2:21 and 2:25.
Second event—Trot, 2:25 class—Sir John won, Martha Dean second, Rilox third, Lizzle Hegstaff fourth. Heats, 2:22, 2:26 and 2:24.

Lizzle Begstaff fourth. Heats, 2:22, 2:26 and 2:24.
Third event—Running race, quarter of a mile dash—Sam F, won. Garvey socond. Leah third. Time, 25 seconds.
In the fourth event, which was a running race, seven-eighths or a mile dash. Neva Walsh. a Los Angeles horse, fin-lished first. This caused a strenuous protest from the backers of Mile Jordan, the entry which finished second. On the complaints made, the judges, after making an investigation, ruled out Neva Walsh, as it was found that the jockey piloting her had discarded 25 pounds dead weight which he had been required to carry. The race was given to Mike Jordan, with Sainrida second and Valencia third. Time, 1:21.

rived in the city late this afternoon and addressed a large gathering at the fair grounds.

The senator was met at the train by L. R. Martineau, candidate for congress, and prominent Democrats of this city. He was escorted to the fair grounds in an automobile and after a thirty-five-minute address hurried back to the station and caught a train for the east.

One of the pleasant features of the senator's visit was an informal reception tendered him at the fair grounds after his address had been delivered, at which a number of the pupils from the State School for the Deaf and Bilnd were introduced.

Said. John Baxter, a youngster, obtained smoking tobacco

The authorities are determined to break up the habit of selling tobacco to minors, which seems prevalent in this city, and if Ellis is proven guilty a heavy fine will be imposed.

A similar case, in which E. A. Munsey, a Twenty-fifth street tobacconist, was convicted and fined $50 in the police district court.

ATTENDANCE AT FAIR IS VERY FLATTERING

OGDEN, Oct. 1 .- The attendance at the fair grounds on the second day of the Big Four county fair exceeded that of the opening day, according to the officials. By 9 o'clock Thursday morning the crowds began to gather and at noon the grandstand, bleachers and the side lines along the race track were a mass of humanity, in anticiaption of the races, which were started at I o'clock. In the main building and the annex, where most of the booths are located and in which is displayed the agricultural wealth of the four counties represented in the fair, as well as other preducts of the four counties, a good-natured mass of jostling humanity surged all day admiring the tastefully arranged booths.

None of the exhibits is attracting a greater amount of attention and admiration than the livestock. The long rows of stalls and enclosures in which blooded horses and fine strains of cattle are quartered are visited each day by thousands of people. The poultry department is under the supervision of George M. Carey, and the display is regarded as exceptionally fine.

The band of Washakle Indians onbegan to gather and at noon the grand-

and the display is regarded as exceptionally fine.

The band of Washakie Indians encamped on the fair grounds is attracting considerable attention. Every evening the aborigines give a public exhibition of various dances. Thursday afternoon one of the attractions at the race track was a running race with horses ridden by squaws and bucks.

In the evening a beautiful display of fireworks with some handsome set pieces was touched off from a platform in front of the grandstand.

Beginning Friday, the judges selected by the fair association will begin the awarding of the various prizes and medals for the best exhibits.

REXBURG DEMOCRATS HOLD A BIG RALLY

Special to The Tribune.

REXBURG, Ida.. Sept. 30.—A big Democratic raily was held here last night in the Flamm hall. Hon. Moses Alexander, candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, was the drawing eard of the evening. The Rexburg band furnished the music for the occasion and a large bon-fire was built on Main street. The hall was filled to its utmost capacity. The meeting was presided over by C. S. Keller, a prominent Democrat of Rexburg. Attorney J. D. Millsaps was the first speaker. He gave a very able address, discussing the conditions in the county and the state. His speech was free from mud slinging. Special to The Tribune.

and the state. His speech was free from mud slinging.

Mr. Alexander is a Boise banker and has been very prominent in Democratic affairs in this state for the past six years. He discussed the Republican and Democratic platforms of the state principally. Speaking of national politics he said that the tariff revision was merely a balt for the unwary voter. Mr. Alexander made a good impression. His remarks were interspersed with many witticisms, which kept his audience in good humor.

A Bryan and Kern club has been organized here and is a very live organization.

The Democrats of this county will hold their county convention next Friday in St. Anthony to nominate a county ticket.

BURNS MURDER TRIAL IS PROCEEDING SLOWLY

Special to The Tribune.

Special to The Tribune.

MANTI, Oct. 1.—The trial of Archibald A. Burns, charged with the murder of James Fisk Jensen, at Mount Pleasant, March 21, was resumed before Judge Chidester in the district court here this morning. When court opened, at 9:30 o'clock, yesterday morning, there were six jurors in the box and upon adjournment at 6 o'clock only one juror had been added to the list although the examination had been carried on as expeditiously as possible during both the morning and afternoon sessions. Just prior to adjournment yesterday evening five men were called to fill up the jury box and partially examined by the defendant. This exhausted the panel of seventy-five originally summoned and Judge Chidester ordered the summoning of thirty additional jurors. It is now doubtful whether a jury can be obtained before tomorrow noon, although to facilitate the securing of a jury the attorneys entered into a stpulation that no jurors should be summoned from Mount Pleasant, where the trouble occurred. Of the number of jurors from Mount Pleasant, where the trouble occurred. Of the number of jurors from Mount Pleasant, where the trouble occurred. Of the number of jurors from Mount Pleasant, where the trouble occurred. Of the number of jurors from Mount Pleasant, where the trouble occurred of the excess of their familiarity with the details of the tragedy and existing opinions as to the merits of the case.

So far the state has exercised eleven and the defendant five peremptory challenges. Both the state and the defense seem anxious to secure a jury as early as possible, and challenges are being interposed only where the circumstances seem to fully warrant.

The Stomach Does Not Cause Dyspepsia

Neither Will It Cure It Because The Lack of Gastric Juices Prohibit Relief.

The stomach is a strong, powerful organ, which is composed of muscles of great strength. It is filled during digestion with gastric juices which, when the stomach, extending and compressing the food displaying the food display the stomach, extending and compress-ing the food, dissolve it and separate the neurishment from the waste matter. If, however, these gastric juices are lacking, the stomach is not capable of digesting its food because it has not the tools with which to work

The gastric juices when in a perfect state do away with all foul odors, fer-mentation and decay, reduce the food to a disintegrated mass and the stom-ach then presses it into the intestines where another form of digestion takes place. Then the intestines take from this mass of food all that is nourishing and give it to the blood. The waste matter is thrown from the system.

If instead of nourishment the intes tines receive impure deposits combined with a poisonous and imperfect gastric juice, it can be readily seen that they must turn such imperfect nourishment into the blood. The blood then being unable to give each part of the body that which it requires, becomes im-poverished and disease is spread broad-
